

Chronicles of Touch:
Palms Through Time

Chronicles of Touch:

Palms Through Time

“Chronicles of Touch: Palms Through Time” is an evocative collage of images that weave together the intricate relationship between humanity, technology, and self. This visual journey captures the tactile essence that links us to our past and propels us into our future, highlighting how touch remains a cornerstone of connection despite the rapid evolution of technology. Each image serves as a vivid reminder of touch’s power in shaping identity, understanding, and interaction across different times and cultures. As we navigate through these pages, we are invited to reflect on our own relationships with touch in a world increasingly mediated by screens and devices, exploring how this fundamental human sense continues to influence our lives in profound ways.

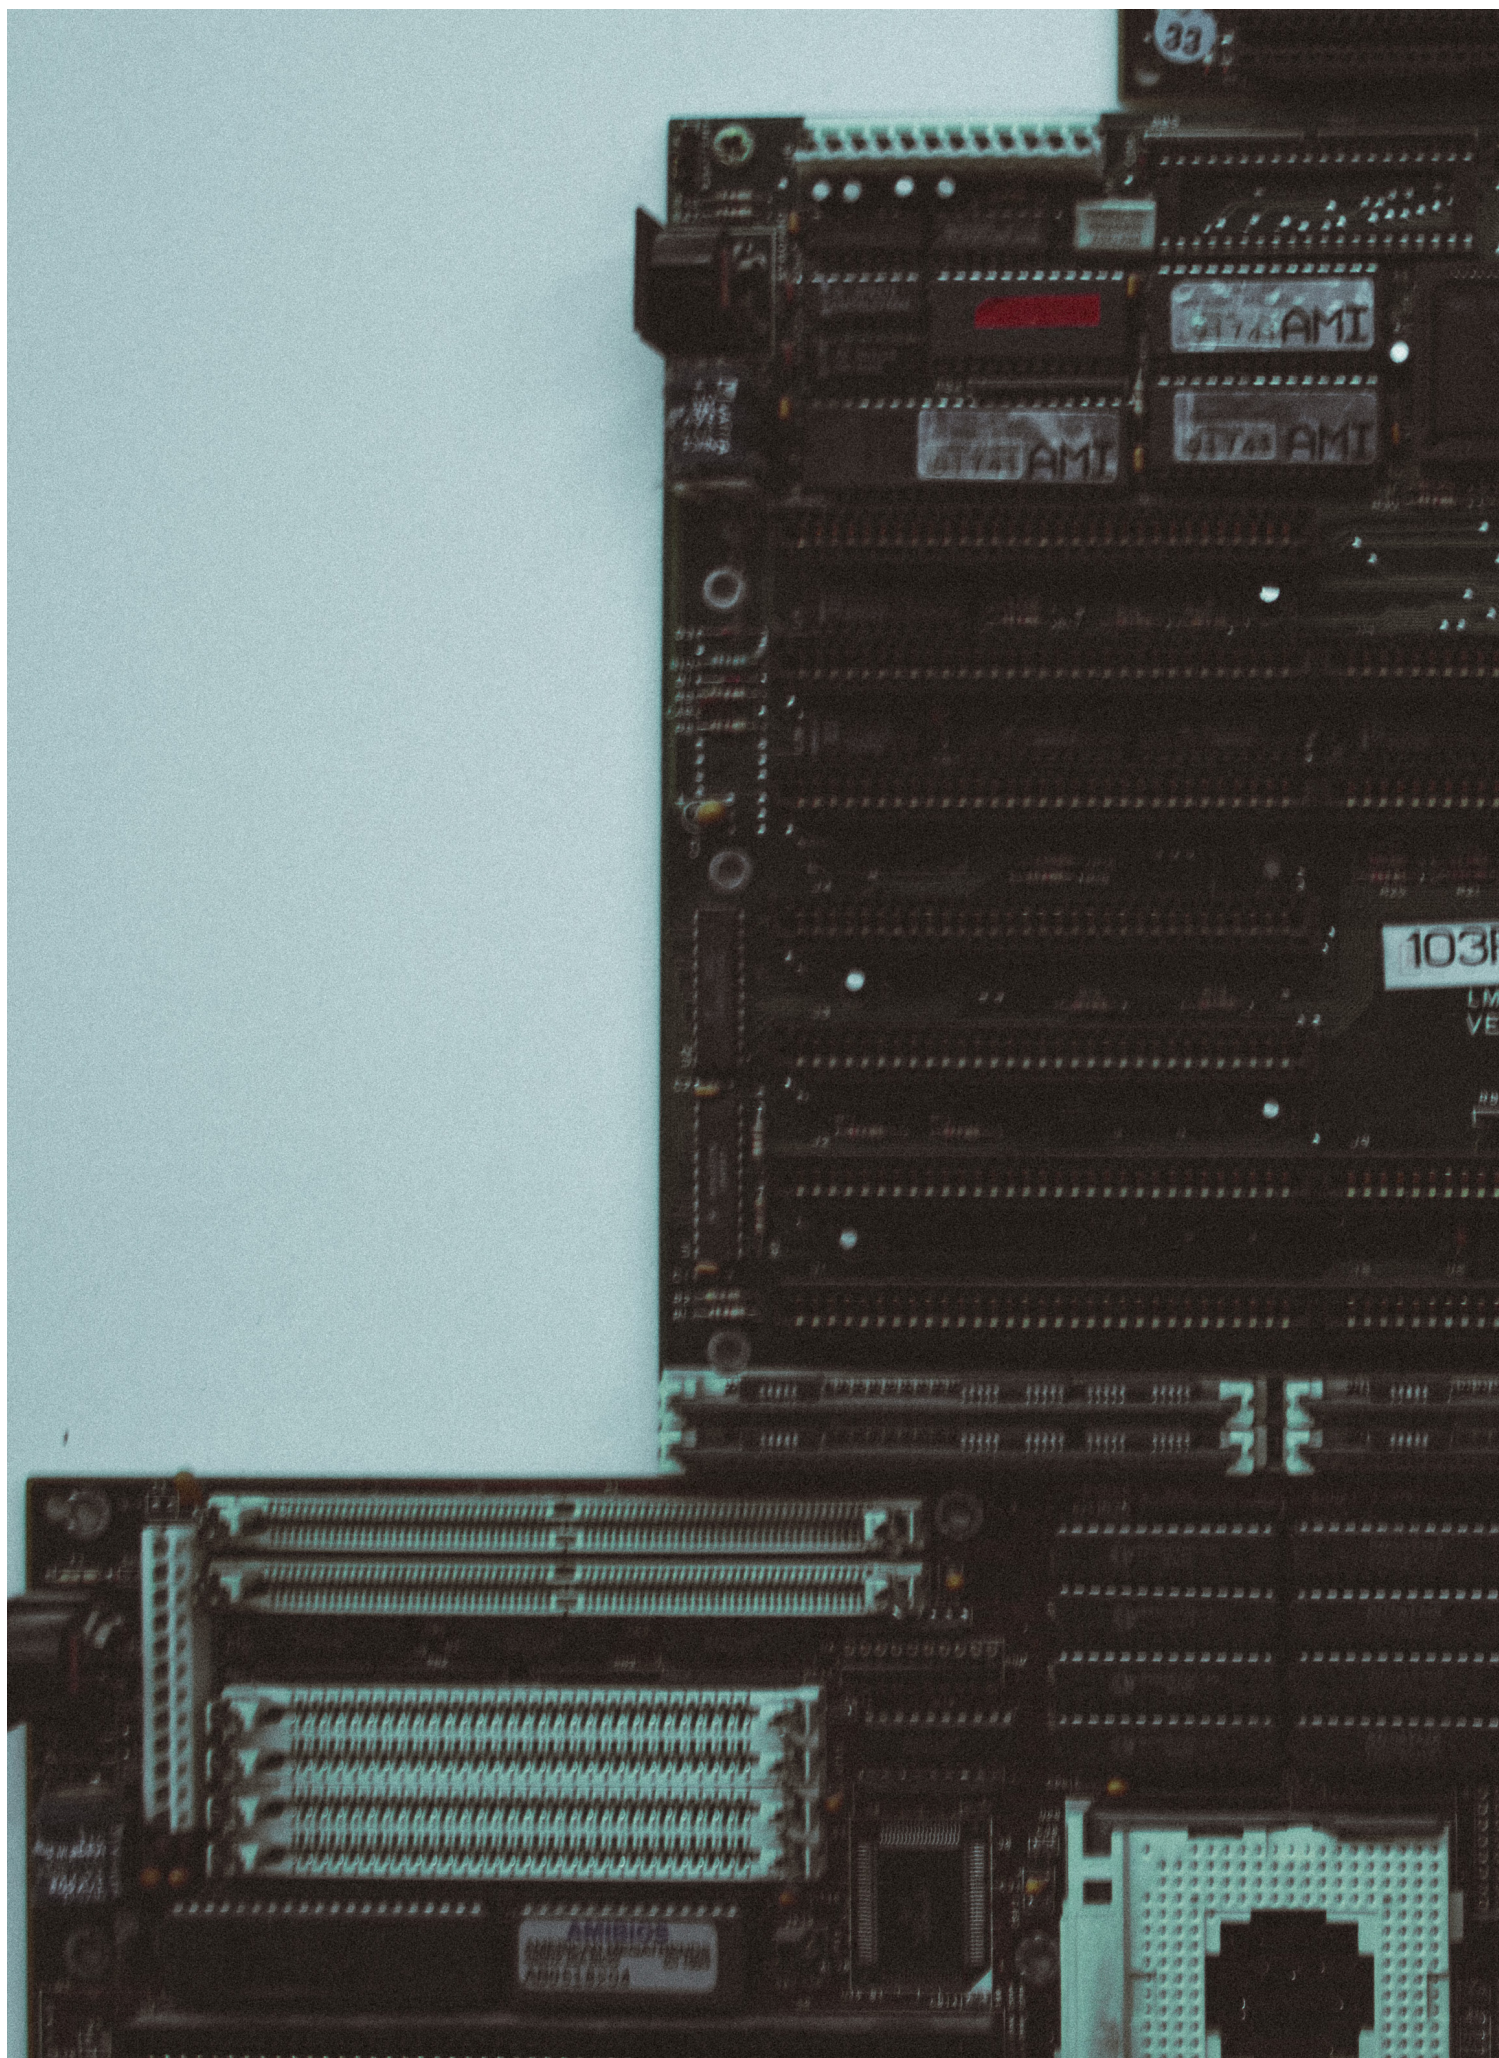

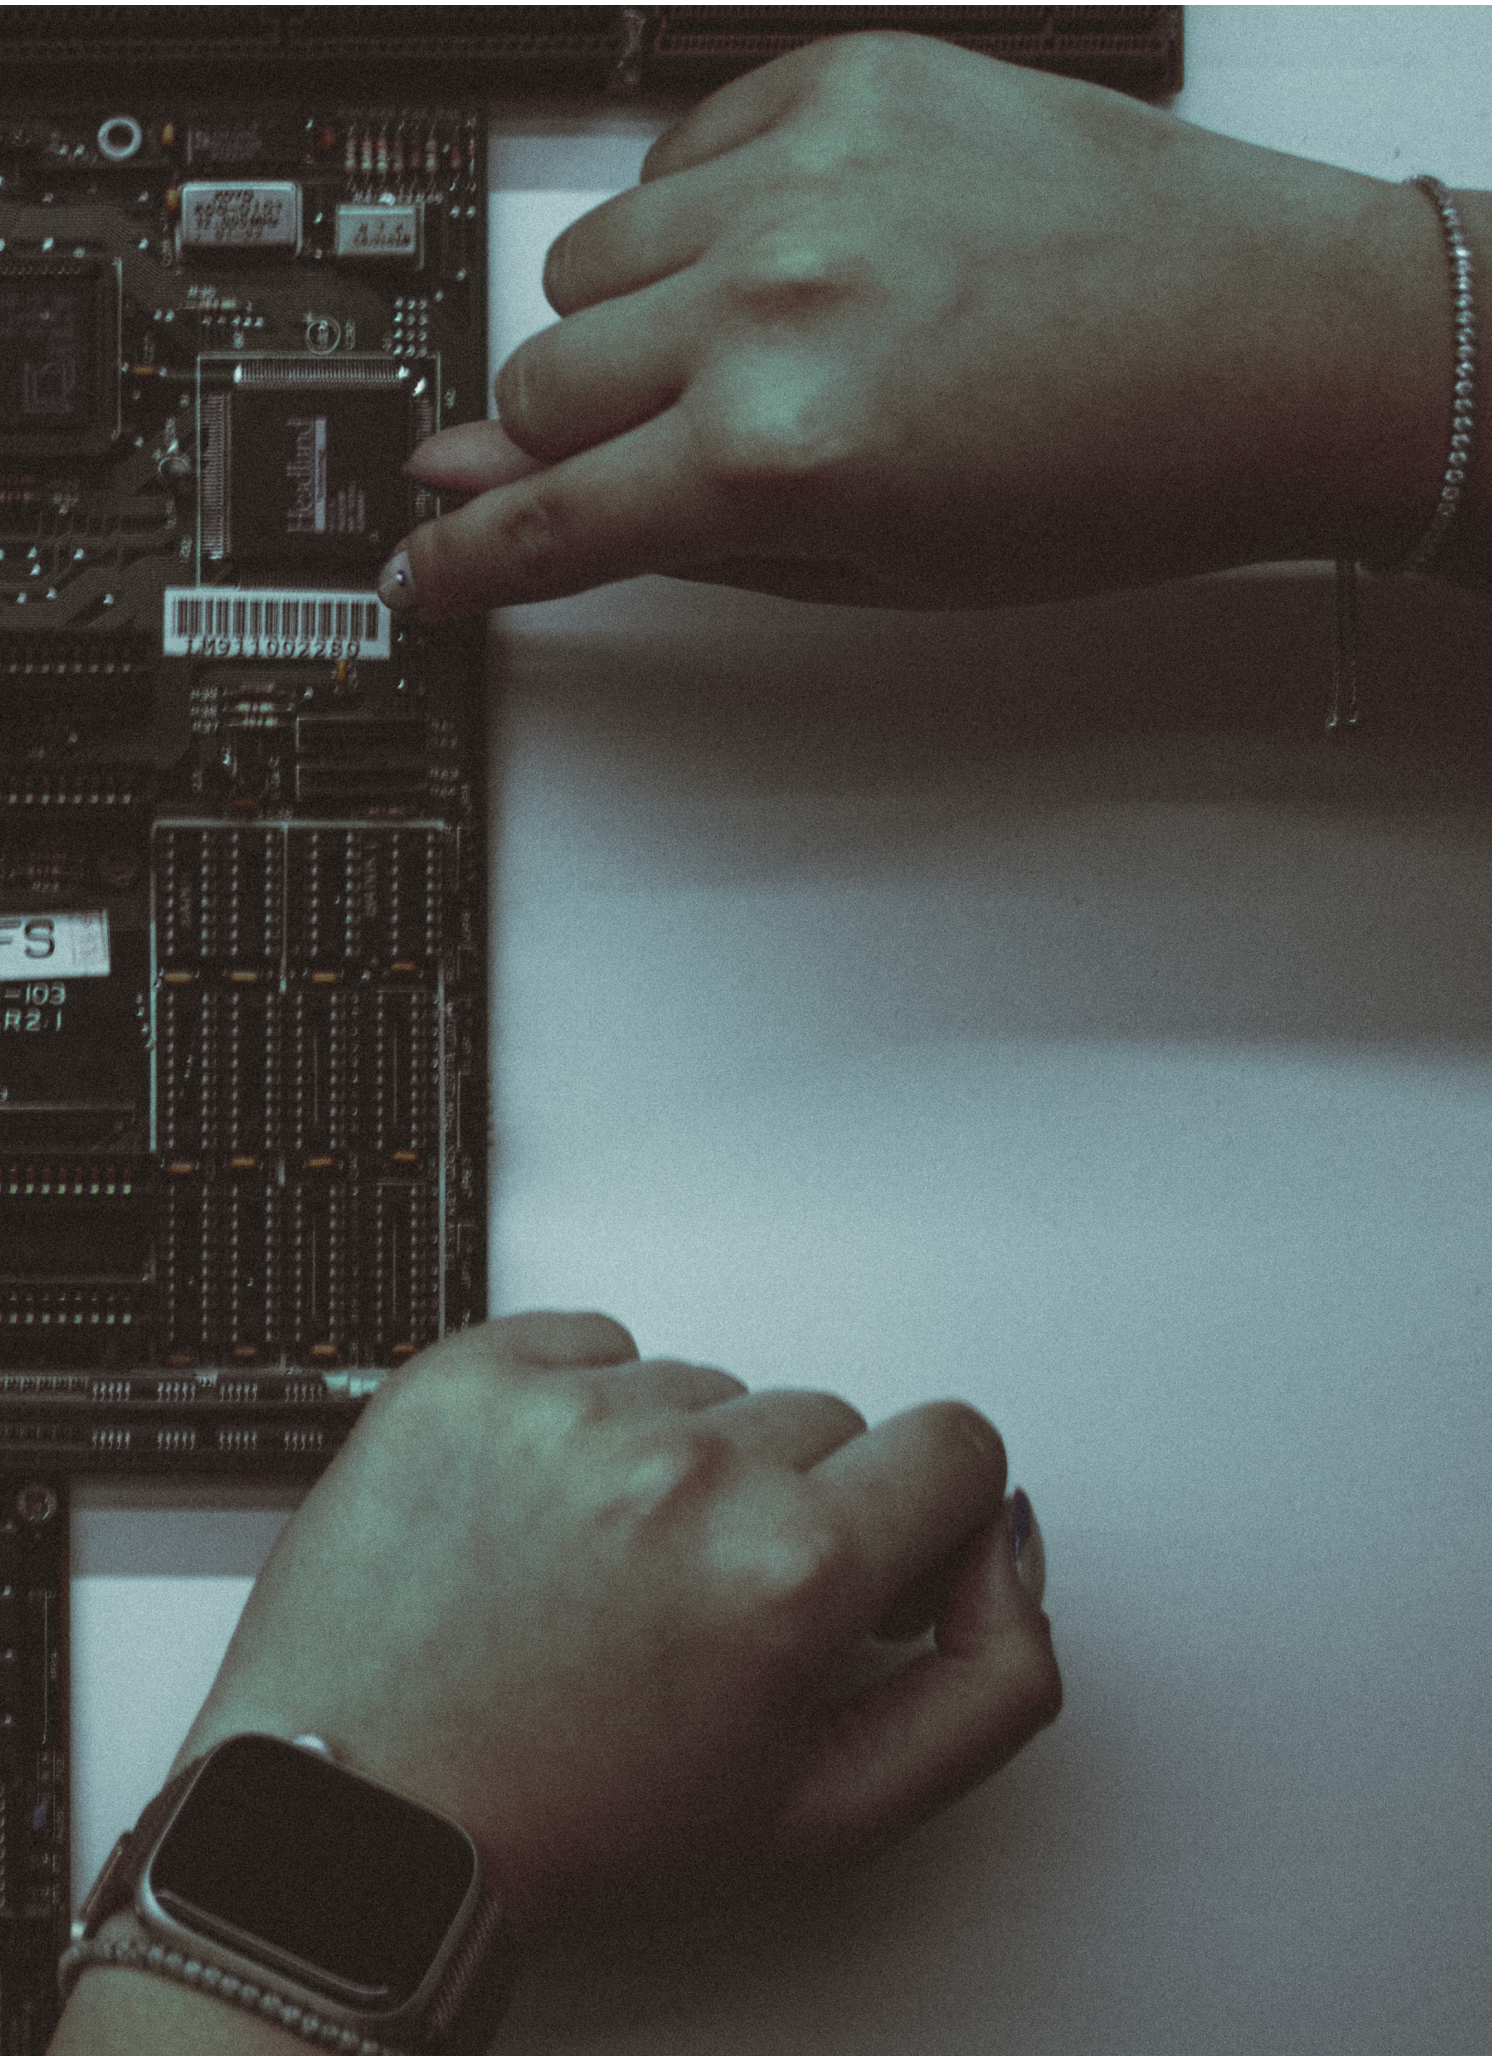

Imprint

Authors: Paula Romanessi and Marc Fischer

Course of Study: Interaction Design 3

Paula Romanessi and Marc Fischer, third-year students in the Interaction Design program, created this collage as part of a project course to explore and visualize relationships.

Contact Information:

- Email for Paula: paula.romanessi@hfg-gmuend.de
- Email for Marc: marc.fischer@hfg-gmuend.de

Copyright Notice:

All content, including images and texts in this collage, is protected by copyright and may not be reproduced, distributed, or used in any other manner without the explicit written consent of the authors.

Chronicles of Touch:
Palms Through Time

